The 1st Lecture Meeting of Tokyo Section in 2022

On March 10th (Thursday), from 16:20 to 17:30, the Tokyo Section Technical Program Committee (TPC) hosted the 2022 First Tokyo Section Lecture Meeting. It was held at the same venue as the 2022 IEEE Tokyo Section LMAG (Life Members Affinity Group) General Meeting, the IEEE Tokyo Section General Meeting, and the New Fellow Award Ceremony. It was held at the Kikai-shinko-kaikan, Tokyo, Japan. This lecture meeting was co-sponsored by Tokyo LMAG. Approximately 46 local and online participants attended the meeting. Dr. Kazuo Yano, Fellow of Hitachi, Ltd. and Representative Director and CEO of Happiness Planet, Ltd., were invited to give a lecture entitled "The Unpredictable Age, Data Reveals Life, Companies, and Human Happiness." He captured the problems and issues in the concept of happiness and happiness of people living in the unpredictable and complex social system of recent years. Using ICT and big data, he examined and pointed out the relationship between the quantification of positive human conditions and the productivity and profits of companies and organizations from a unique perspective. Based on this, he gave a very interesting talks about how people think in the future and what organizations should be.

This time, we held a lecture meeting as a hybrid using the local venue and Zoom Webinar. Although the COVID19 situation has recently remained deadlocked, experts have pointed out that infections will increase in the near future, so we will continue to hold meetings according to the situation.
